The Middle East Times  June 2005  38
Middle East Times’ 20th Anniversary

The Middle East Times, an important bridge between Australia and the Middle East, recently celebrated its 20th anniversary with a pledge from the editorial board to continue our mission to be an independent and strong forum that mirrors the true picture of Arab countries and their outstanding citizens and culture. The Middle East Times has from the beginning adopted objectivity, accurate reporting and variation of opinions. Being the only bilingual magazine that specializes in Arab world affairs in Australia, we have succeeded in cementing our presence in international forums.

The Middle East Times has wide and selective readership in Australia, the United States, Asia, Europe and, of course, the Middle East. Our first edition was published in March 1985, and was hailed as being a defining moment in informing the Australian readers including politicians, industrialists and academics about important issues and developments in the Arab region.

We have strived to cover important developments in the Middle East including the Lebanese civil war, the ramifications of the Israeli civil war, the invasion of Kuwait, Gulf Cooperation Council conferences, 11 September and Bali attacks and economic progress in Saudi Arabia, Oman, Kuwait, United Arab Emirates, Qatar and other Arab countries, and the struggle of the Palestinian people to liberate their occupied lands.

Our journey has been hard but rewarding. We constantly receive letters from readers who are heartened by our commitment to strengthen relations between Australia and the Arab world.

We believe it is vital that Australian as well as Middle Eastern readers know about different points of views. Furthermore, we feel that coverage of Middle Eastern issues in local media has been wanting. The Middle East Times does not only cover this deficiency but also ensures that its editorial reflect the true state of affairs in the region and the factual feeling of injustice that prevails among the Arab population in the Arab world.
